before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Global Competition in Transportation Markets: Analysis and Policy Making (Research in Transportation Economics):

This book represents the proceedings of a conference held at Kobe University, that brought together some of the world's leading researchers in the field of transportation planning and policy. It contains a compendium of papers representing state-of-the-art research on topics of competition and regulation and system structure in air and maritime transportation. This book is a valuable resource for researchers and others who can use it as a starting point for advancing the state of knowledge in important topics of transportation systems management. It can also serve as a textbook for an advanced graduate course in transportation, economics, or public policy as applied to maritime transportation and air transportation. As such it is the first text of its kind.

"...offers many new insights of a high level for students, researchers, and planners in the area of transport economics. Personally I was very much impressed by the sophisticated modeling efforts and experiments in this book."--Peter Nijkamp, Free University Amsterdam for EJITR, 6, no. 4 (2006), pp.371-372
