Robert Taylor : The Globalization of Chinese Business (Chandos Asian Studies Series) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Globalization of Chinese Business (Chandos Asian Studies Series):

The main theme of the book is the globalisation of China's markets and Chinese business management in the context of ongoing reform at home and the country's growing global economic role. The Globalisation of Chinese Business includes contributions relating to a wide range of manufacturing and service sectors, encompassing such areas as foreign investment, state and private enterprise, human resource management, consumer culture and advertising, financial markets and healthcare. Following an introduction by the editor there are four sections, the first focused on the globalisation of Chinese management and the second on the evolution of Chinese management. The remaining sections contain chapters on China's growing service sector, growing markets and competition, and healthcare system reform. An epilogue by the editor in the remaining section concludes. Covers a range of managerial issues relating to both manufacturing and services in China in the context of ongoing managerial reform. Discusses the corporate strategies of both Chinese and foreign companies. Examines the targeting of Chinese and global markets. Details the globalisation of Chinese business management.

"The reader will find this book more interesting and helpful in understanding China than other books which focus either on micro-level factors or macro-level factors...very useful in guiding foreign investors in different sectors and from different perspectives." --Pacific Affairs, The Globalization of Chinese Business
