

(Library ebook) The Indian Economy in Transition: Globalization, Capitalism and Development

The Indian Economy in Transition: Globalization, Capitalism and Development

Anjan Chakrabarti, Anup K. Dhar, Byasdeb Dasgupta
*ePub | *DOC | audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF*

DOWNLOAD

READ ONLINE

2015-10-22 2015-10-22 File Name: B01LYX81HI | File size: 40.Mb

Anjan Chakrabarti, Anup K. Dhar, Byasdeb Dasgupta : The Indian Economy in Transition: Globalization, Capitalism and Development before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Indian Economy in Transition: Globalization, Capitalism and Development:

Taking the period following the advent of liberalization, this book explains the transition of the Indian economy against the backdrop of development. If the objective is to explore the new economic map of India, then the distinct contributions in the book could be seen as twofold. The first is the analytical frame whereby the authors deploy a unique Marxist approach consisting of the initial concepts of class process and the developing countries to address India's economic transition. The second contribution is substantive whereby the authors describe India's economic transition as epochal, materializing out of the new emergent triad of neo-liberal globalization, global capitalism and inclusive development. This is how the book theorizes the structural transformation of the Indian economy in the twenty-first century. Through this framework, it interrogates and critiques the given debates, ideas and policies about the economic development of a developing nation.

"[This] book is genuinely original and profound. It does not rehearse well-trod and well-known conventional discussions of Indian economic development. Here is both theoretical advance and an exploration of insights enabled by that advance. A new kind of critical Marxian theory is presented and extended, bringing readers the latest developments in this global tradition of radical thought. A new sense of the Indian economy - what 'transitions' are and are not occurring - emerges in powerful analytics ... Bravo for an exceptional achievement and contribution." Richard D. Wolff, Professor of Economics Emeritus, University of Massachusetts, Amherst

About the Author Anjan Chakrabarti holds a PhD in Economics from the University of California, Riverside, and is currently Professor of Economics at the University of Calcutta. His interests include Marxian theory, political philosophy, development economics and Indian economics. He is the author or co-author of seven books and fifty journal articles. His books include Transition and Development in India (co-authored with Stephen Cullenberg), Dislocation and Resettlement in Development: From Third World to World of the Third (co-authored with Anup Dhar) and World of the Third and Global Capitalism (co-authored with Anup Dhar and Stephen Cullenberg). He has published in journals including the Cambridge Journal of Economics, Collegium Anthropologicum, Critical Sociology, Rethinking Marxism, Psychotherapy and Politics International, and Economic and Political Weekly. In 2008, he received the V. K. R. V. Rao Prize in Social Science Research in Economics, awarded by the Indian Council of Social Science Research, the Government of India and the Institute for Social and Economic Change, Bangalore.

Anup K. Dhar teaches at the School of Human Studies, Ambedkar University, Delhi. Byasdeb Dasgupta teaches at the Department of Economics, University of Kalyani, West Bengal.