Larry Chambers : The Online Broker and Trading Directory before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Online Broker and Trading Directory:

Valuable information--commission costs, key features, systems, services, and more--on today's hottest online brokers! The Online Broker and Trading Directory is the first directory to provide names, Website addresses, descriptions, and other valuable information on over 100 of today's best-known online brokers. This single handy reference shows you how online brokerage houses compare on each of 10 critical factors--letting you choose your broker based on competitive intelligence rather than random guesswork. In addition, this powerhouse guidebook provides tips and pointers you need to become a smart, savvy online trader. It reveals professional tricks of the trade to help you avoid--or escape--sticky situations; tells you how to select the broker that's right for you; shows you where to find free news, company analyses, and newsletters; and much more. Which online broker is best for you? Look in The Online Broker and Trading Directory to learn: Website address (URL); fees and costs, including all add-ons; type of client best served by broker; services offered; order entry and execution process, including clearing firm; minimum account requirements; unique or innovative features; available support systems; hardware and software requirements. Today's online trading arena provides a door to the future--a door that opens to both incredible trading profits and unseen stumbling blocks. Use The Online Broker and Trading Directory as an invaluable tool to help you open that door, choose the correct brokerage house, and join millions of other traders on today's exciting, no-limits electronic trading floor.
